

Veema's Online CPD Packages for Schools

Specifically designed to support your in-house programme, our 'bite-sized' online learning packages enable you to really tailor CPD training to your school's needs throughout the academic year.

And not only do they provide immediate and anytime access to great educational speakers, but they are also a highly effective channel for connecting, engaging and learning with and from colleagues.

We offer three training packages, each of which can be adapted to your requirements. Just let us know if there are any additional aspects you would like to include.
