Course Description:

A theoretical and practical exploration of leadership coaching. Participants will work through online training activities, practical activities and written reflections to develop their understanding of coaching leaders. We will work to develop and practice those skills that are essential for coaches. The course will also provide additional models that coaches may use to enhance their client's development and performance. Participants will also understand and be able to apply the important principles around contracting, ethics and supervision as they seek to embed coaching in their own setting. The course is designed to improve leadership at all levels but can be scoped to include coaching at all levels, including the coaching of teachers and support staff.

Learning Objectives:

- Understand and apply the knowledge and skills needed to coach successfully;
- Feel confident with the T-GROW coaching model so that you can begin to coach others
- Consider how coaching can be successfully implemented and embedded in your own setting;
- Understand and be able to apply the principles around contracting, ethics and supervision.
