Good morning,

In this Spring edition of Veema Bugle, we're focusing on CPD resources for SEND and Child Safeguarding in International schools.

As educators, teachers and school leaders, we all work hard to ensure our schools are safe inclusive environments where children can flourish. So, please use these resources to update previous in-house training, use during your own INSET and twilight trainings, or just add to your CPD libraries.

In the next few weeks, we will launch our NPQ and ISENCO accredited qualifications for International school leaders in readiness for September 2020. Our online mentors and training facilitators for these programmes, are former International school leaders themselves so they have excellent knowledge and shared understanding, something we know is particularly appreciated.

If you would like to know more about these accredited courses, please contact me.

No matter where you are in the world, our aim is not only to keep you up to date with the latest educational news and research but also support your teaching practice, development and pupils through excellent CPD training.

To learn more about how Veema could benefit your school professional development programme, just get in touch.

Enjoy these resources and thank you for your continued support.

Best wishes,

C. Constantinou
