Taking Charge of Leading the Change

Student
Masterclass
KS5

Overview

Students master the skill of putting a results-driven mindset into the choices that boost KS5 success. Exposure to psychometric testing offers an inside view of what they're capable of learning and what hirers and institutions use to pick top candidates. Add this to any careers or university prep programme!

Description

This is a career-driven masterclass that invites students to explore how they can approach the all-important KS5 decision-making process. Students are encouraged to consider those subjects that will enable them to succeed at school, university and in their chosen career. We'll provide the very latest information about British universities and programmes of study, and we'll set students thinking about how to identify and promote their unique selling point. It's an important session and one that will help students focus their energies on the next stage of their school career, and those qualities that most interest employers.

This masterclass has proved to be extremely successful in guiding students in the right direction when choosing subjects at KS5. The format is engaging and includes a wide range of learning practices designed to capture students' attention. It is delivered by curriculum specialists with experience in careers education and university entry. We always work closely with the head of sixth form or key stage leaders to ensure the class is tailored to the needs of each school.

Objectives

- Making the right choices at KS5
- Learning how to cope with the demands of sixth form
