Course Description:

Ideal for new middle school leaders or those looking for a solid foundation course before taking a new specialist NPQ in the near future. As with all our courses, it is evidence-informed and based on the latest research into curriculum knowledge and pedagogy.

This course will help you:

- Develop the qualities of an effective leader and show you how to incorporate them into daily working practice so you make a swift transition into middle school leadership.
- Lead departments post-pandemic through coaching that boosts your performance and improves their wellbeing.
- Identify and articulate your personal leadership strengths and weaknesses so you can determine a leadership style that's right for you.
- Apply practical strategies for teaching and learning, meeting curriculum needs, and bringing about change that initiates school improvement in key areas.
- Better evaluate department performance using tools such as departmental SEFs to ensure accountability to the head, external stakeholders and board of governors.

Reasons to choose Veema:

- ✓ We work extensively with UK and International Schools and so have a global understanding of the issues facing educators and school staff
- ✓ Our highly-rated training courses have been created by experts and are delivered by experienced professional development trainers
- ✓ All our trainers are former teachers and school leaders who know how to look at the world from your perspective
- ✓ Our courses are certified, which means you can be sure of their quality
- ✓ We offer extensive and in-depth post-course online support to help you get the most from each training session
- ✓ We offer a wealth of literature and material for use in your school

- Support colleagues in their continuous growth by listening to their needs, managing their expectations and challenging them when necessary through appropriate conversations.

Audience:

- New or aspiring middle subject/pastoral leaders

Dr Julia's Batters Biography:

A recently retired secondary school headteacher with a long career in a British international school, Julia is an experienced educator focused on developing excellence in learning and teaching through highly effective leadership and management. Julia spent most of her career at the British School of Paris. She joined the school as Head of Languages in September 1991 after teaching in Wiltshire and London. Promoted to Deputy Head-Academic in 2000 and then to Head of Senior School in 2013, she has accrued more than 20 years' experience of delivering the British curriculum to an international student body. Following a degree in European Studies at the University of Bath, Julia stayed at Bath to complete a PGCE and later to complete a PhD. A strong believer in the practical application of academic research, Julia is experienced in leading initiatives in school which are rooted in evidence-based findings. She has recently begun to contribute to continuing professional development for aspiring international senior leaders.
