

Questions for Your Next Departmental Meeting

Never Stop
Learning

Resource 1: Reflective Prompts for Discussion

1. What teaching strategies are working particularly well for your students right now?
2. Is there a particular group of students you'd like to support further?
 - What challenges are they currently facing?
 - What are you planning to do or have already done to support them?
3. What have you read recently or observed from colleagues that inspired you to try something new in your classroom?
4. What defines effective teaching or the characteristics of great teaching?
 - What evidence or experiences have shaped your thinking?
5. What interventions do we have in place as a department to monitor students' progress?
 - Are these interventions effective?
 - How do we know?
6. As a department, what should we focus on next?
 - How does this align with the school's goals for improving teaching and learning?