

Leading Safely:

Child Protection Training for Designated Safeguarding Leads

Touchpoints:

1. Understand the role and responsibilities of the designated safeguarding lead.
2. Identify appropriate levels of intervention when a concern arises and managing concerns and referrals.
3. Gain greater awareness of intervention thresholds and ensuring appropriate action is taken when thresholds are crossed.
4. Consider the obstacles to staff and children reporting concerns including the emotional impact of safeguarding children.
5. Identify best practice for confidentiality, sharing information, recording, boundaries, whistleblowing and listening to children.
6. Knowledge and understanding of the key legislation, guidance and best practice around safeguarding children in education.
7. Awareness of the multi-agency response post referral.
8. Learn lessons from the analysis of case studies and serious case reviews.

Who is it for?

- Named and designated safeguarding leads
- School governors
- Operational managers
- Professional advisors

What will it do?

Help you better understand the role of a designated safeguarding lead in the light of national child protection guidelines and intervention thresholds, to ensure an appropriate response to concerns or allegations.
